Three U.S. Silver Dollar Albums, 47 Total Coins

"Liberty Head" (Morgan) Dollars, two albums, 29 coins; Peace Dollars, single album, 18 coins, housed in vintage Wayne Raymond bookshelf albums, majority of coins with simply honest wear, scattered marks, a few with luster present, toning (likely imparted from long term storage in album), Wayne Raymond album with typical weakness at taped binding

Provenance: Private Collection

Estimate: $1,000 - $1,200

There seems to be a nice diversity of dates in the Morgan Dollar albums, including a well circulated 1891 Carson City example. The Peace Dollar album, by contrast, has some heavy duplication with numerous coins from 1922.

395

250 One Ounce Silver Rounds

250 one troy ounce silver rounds, .999 fine, majority are American Prospector by Engelhard design, uncirculated, minimal wear

Provenance: Private Collection, Wytheville, Virginia

432*1967 Canadian Centennial Set with $20 Gold

seven coin set, one year types featuring animal themed reverses, original box, proof, some toning present, wispy hairlines to most as if previously wiped, outer box with some distress and writing

Provenance: Private Collection

Estimate: $1,000 - $1,500

The $20 gold coin included in this set contains over half a troy ounce of gold. Due to an Executive Order signed by Franklin Roosevelt in 1933, gold coins were illegal to own in the United States until 1975. For this reason alone, many more six piece Centennial sets, sans the gold coin, were imported as opposed to the seven piece set being offered here.

433*1925-S St. Gaudens $20 Gold Coin

San Francisco issue, NGC graded UNC details with a notation for prior cleaning

Provenance: Private Collection

Estimate: $3,000 - $4,000

Numismatic historian Roger Burdette believes fewer than 1,500 of this issue survive in all grades due to overzealous melting on the part of the government.
